Information processing in spin-based systems

Unconventional and waves computing

Spin orbitronics

Quantum computing

The school will offer fundamentals and insights on spin-based systems applied to information processing with international experts in the field.

Held in the main campus of Politecnico di Milano, the school is intended for Italian and international graduate students, Ph.D. students, post-doc, and young researchers.

Do not miss the opportunity to receive one of the three best poster awards and to become a member of AIMagn, the Italian association of magnetism!
